what & why.

Hey sis! So glad you're interested in using my printables.

The S.O.A.P. method is a great tool to use while reading scripture. And whether you've been studying the Bible for years or you're new to your faith, this is a wonderful way to dive deep with Jesus! I remember the first time I was introduced to it... and it was a game-changer for my "quiet time". In recent weeks, I started using it again & wanted to share it with you!

If you're unfamiliar with this method, don't sweat it. I've included a step-by-step guide on the next page detailing how to use it.

I've designed two different themes for you to mix-and-match. First, there's the "Weekly Overview" – think of this like a planner. You can record a memory verse, list out prayer requests, and then write down your reading plan for the week. Side note: I encourage you to commit to an entire book of the Bible as it's always important to keep God's Word in context! Next, you'll find the "Bible Study Notes" (which follow the first 3 steps of S.O.A.P.). These can be used during/after reading multiple passages. Finally, there is a full-page for prayer for those of you who love to journal like me!

Tip: print a week or two's worth of your chosen theme double-sided. Hole punch & place them in a binder! You'll be able to flip through past prayers and scripture learnings.

Sincerely,
